

Mail bags are segregated according to the city by the Railway Mail Service (RMS). These are unloaded at specific stations from where they are dispatched to various locations.