

Using a bascule bridge design concept, the Pamban is a movable bridge that uses an “open-close” mechanism to allow boats to pass under it. Here, it can be seen open, for the movement of water-borne traffic.