

This iconic locomotive of the Patiala State Monorail Tramway (PSMT) was brought to the National Rail Museum, New Delhi, in 1977, where it was restored to full working condition. The PSMT was one of the very few steam-run monorail systems in the world.