

▲ Pani Pandey or watermen collected water from hand pumps and stored them in cans. They would offer passengers water, especially during long, hot summer days. Seen here are the watermen of the Kharagpur Junction railway station, a part of the Bengal–Nagpur Railway, carrying containers of drinking water meant for passengers, on wheel barrows.