

Supposedly inspired by St Pancras railway station in London, Victoria Terminus's architecture is an amalgamation of Victorian Gothic styles and traditional Indian motifs. Indian decorative elements, such as peacocks, tigers, reptiles, and tropical plants, painted by English artist John Lockwood Kipling and his students, can be seen throughout the terminus.