

Deccan Queen was the country's first superfast train. Its dining car remains popular with railway commuters even today.