

▲ In 2006, services started on the world's highest conventional railway between Qinghai and Tibet. The route in Tibet reaches up to 5,072 m above sea level. Seen here is a train running through Kunlun Mountains.