

▲ Sir Andrew Fraser, lieutenant governor of the Bengal Presidency (1903–06), was the target of many assassination attempts, the most famous one being the attempted derailing of his train in 1907.

The Viceregal Special train passed Purana Qila in New Delhi at 7.40am, as scheduled, on 23 December 1929. Onboard were Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India (1926–31), and his wife Lady Dorothy Onslow, returning from a tour of south India. As the train passed mile marker 952/6, a bomb exploded, blowing out a piece of rail. It left behind a hole in the floor of
