

▲ The masked revolutionaries of the HRA did not rob any Indians. This artist's impression shows them in action with their loot.

“With the rapidity of an avalanche the train was approaching. The familiar clickety-clack now filled the atmosphere. What had it in store for us? Death? Who knows? But it no longer frightened us.”

MANMATH NATH GUPTA RECALLING THE MOMENT THE PUNJAB MAIL PASSED BY IN THE MIDDLE OF THE ROBBERY AT KAKORI, THEY LIVED DANGEROUSLY: REMINISCENCES OF A REVOLUTIONARY (1969)