

▲ Railway workshops in India during World War II were co-opted to work for the war effort. Manpower was used to build a wide variety of war equipment, from hand grenade casings to armoured vehicles. This 1942 photograph shows railway employees constructing an armoured vehicle.