

RESTORE, REGROUP, AND REBUILD

Even as the nation celebrated its freedom, the railways took stock of its lines and infrastructure, severely affected by Partition. As it looked towards the future, the young Indian Government began consolidating its resources and creating a true “Indian” railway network.