

superintendent at Delhi Main. Bond, writes Chatterjee, "is seen replenishing imagery after imagery in the quest of railway colonies situated in the Himalayan foothills, relinquishing in the process sundry romances."