

FOR THE PEOPLE

The Garib Rath Express was started by the Indian Railways in 2006 with an aim to provide passengers with affordable, long-distance, air-conditioned train service. The first train from this category ran between Saharsa in northern Bihar to Amritsar in Punjab in October 2006. The speed matches Rajdhani and Duronto Express. The Garib Raths have chair cars for seating and three-tier coaches, with more accommodation than in regular AC coaches. The Kapurthala Coach Factory provided the coaches for this service.
