
THE KONKAN EXPERIENCE

Mandovi Express, Mumbai–Madgaon

This journey is the perfect way to experience the Konkan Railway in all its glory. The monsoon is the best time to travel, accompanied by moody, overcast skies and surrounded by the lush green of the Western Ghats as the train, twists, turns, and curves its way towards the coast. This is also the time to see the waterfalls as they are full to the brim during the rains. Among these is the Ranpat Waterfall near Ratnagiri in Maharashtra. The train also crosses over the vertigo-inducing Panval Nadi viaduct in Ratnagiri, once India's tallest bridge. The landscape from the train window constantly changes, passing over swift rivers, through paddy fields, coconut trees, and little stations, giving but a hint of life along the Konkan coast.