

Chinese arts and crafts

Jewellery and adornment

Belt and garment hooks, worn by men, could be beautifully decorated.

Gilded sleeve weight helped wide sleeves hang properly.

Gold buckle is decorated with carved patterns.

Belt and garment hooks were sometimes inlaid with turquoise and gold.

Gilded hair comb has prongs of silver; it was probably used by a high-ranking woman.

Gold and silver nail guards were used to decorate and protect the long fingernails of rich men and women.

Silver and gilt belt plaque is decorated with a pattern of fruit.

Status artifacts

Jade buckle plaque with dragon design

Elephant ornament is made of gold and ivory, inlaid with gems.

Decoration made by pushing enamel paste into gaps between metal.

Box is made of lacquer, carved with leaves.

Cup carved from jade, a precious gemstone.

Rich, gilded decoration

Fish is Buddhist symbol representing spiritual freedom.

Jade pot was used for washing writing brushes.

Box is made of lacquer, carved with peony flowers.

Fish vase is decorated with enamel paste and gilded metal.

Camel ornament is made of glazed earthenware.

Jade pot is adorned with carving of man and house.

Inlaid lid for writing brush

Writing brush has wolf-hair tip and is inlaid with mother-of-pearl.

Extremely detailed work