

convenience

How many times a day do you press a button or flip a switch? With great gadgets and gizmos created to save us time and effort, you have an instant helping hand for almost any task. We've gotten used to telling the time in a second, choosing a spin cycle to clean clothes, or bringing a new toy to life with a couple of batteries. Thanks to some clever people's light-bulb moments, these creature comforts are now a reality, providing quick fixes we can't live without.

