

The Roman Army	114
The structure and organization of the professional Roman army.
Classical Art	116
The sculpture, pottery, painting, mosaics, and architecture of ancient Greece and Rome.
Greek and Roman Egypt	118
Egypt's transition from a kingdom ruled by Greeks to a Roman, then Byzantine province.
■ CLEOPATRA	120
The Revival of Persia	122
Persia after the Greeks—Parthian expansion and the period of Sassanid rule.
India's First Empire	124
The Mauryan domination of the Indian subcontinent and the rise of Buddhism.
The Unification of China	126
The "Warring States" period, which gave rise to the Qin state.
The Centralized State	128
Han Dynasty China and the development of its highly efficient civil service.
Classical Thought	130
The emergence of key philosophical ideas in ancient Greece, including the work of Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle.
A Wider World	132
Increasing commercial and cultural exchange, forging links across the ancient world.
Celtic Warriors	134
The spread of Celtic culture across Europe, which leads to contact with Romans, Greeks, and Christianity.
■ CELTIC METAL	136
Nomads of the Steppes	138
The tribes of the vast grasslands of Eurasia, such as the Scythians and Kushans.
Early American Civilizations	140
The cultures of Mesoamerica and South America—Maya, Zapotec, and Nazca.
Gods and Goddesses	142
The polytheistic religions and pantheons of deities that developed in the ancient world.
Spreading the Faith	144
The emergence and expansion of the great world religions.

■ BATTLE OF MILVIAN BRIDGE	148
Decline and Fall?	150
The end of the Roman Empire, the changing balance of power in the West, and the rise of the Christian Byzantine Empire in the East.

WARRIORS, TRAVELERS, & INVENTORS

600–1450	152
Introduction and Timeline	154
Diffusion of Knowledge	158
Muslim scholarship and the spread of ideas to the West.
China's Golden Age	160
The Tang dynasty's rule of China, which saw a great flowering of Chinese culture.
The Song Dynasty	162
China under the Song, a period of upheaval and key reforms.
■ GENGHIS KHAN	164
The Ming Dynasty	166
China under the Ming, during which Beijing became capital and the Great Wall was built.
The Rise of the Samurai	168
The establishment of the Shogunate and the domination of the warrior class in Japan.
Korea in the Middle Ages	170
The ascendancy of the Choson kingdom, which dominated Korea until 1910.
Lost Empires	172
The empires of Southeast Asia, including the Khmer, Pagan, and Dai Viet.

The Ascent of Islam	174
The spread of the Islamic faith throughout the world following the death of Muhammad.
■ ISLAMIC TREASURES	178
The Delhi Sultanate	180
The great Islamic kingdom that was founded in India.
South of the Sahara	182
The trading centers and empires of Africa, including Great Zimbabwe, Songhay, and Mali.
The Silk Road	184
The greatest trading route of the 13th–14th centuries, which spread from Europe to East Asia.
The Black Death	186
The plague that decimated Europe during the medieval period.
Medieval Europe	188
The establishment of the Holy Roman Empire, and the feudal system in Europe.
■ BATTLE OF HASTINGS	192
The Power and the Glory	194
The might of the Roman Catholic Church in medieval Europe.
The Byzantine Empire	198
The great empire of the East, centered on Constantinople (Istanbul).
The Crusades	200
The religious wars for control of the Holy Land (Palestine).
Raiders and Traders	202
The Vikings—the warrior tribes from Scandinavia that spread across Europe.
■ BATTLE OF 'AYN JALUT	204
The Rise of Ottoman Power	206
The foundation of the Ottoman Empire by nomadic warriors in Anatolia (Turkey).
Cities and Trade	208
The rise of commerce and city-states, such as Genoa and Venice, in medieval Europe.
Pre-Columbian Americas	210
The rich and complex societies of the Maya, Aztecs, and Incas.
■ AZTEC TO INCA	214
Polynesian Expansion	216
The colonization of the islands of the South Pacific.

RENAISSANCE & REFORMATION

1450–1750	218
Introduction and Timeline	220
Voyages of Discovery	224
European expeditions around the globe and the discovery of "new worlds".
■ ISABELLA OF CASTILE	226
■ COLUMBUS LANDS IN THE CARIBBEAN	228
Contact Americas	230
The Spanish conquistadors in South and Central America.
The Great Exchange	232
The two-way exchange of plants, animals, and disease between Europe and the Americas.
Spanish Silver	234
The discovery and exploitation of South America's vast natural resources.
The Pilgrim Fathers	236
The religious refugees who became the founding fathers of the US and whose colonies set the tone for future colonization.
Trade and Empire	238
The vast European trading empires that stretched to Africa, Asia, and the Americas between the 15th–18th centuries.
The Three Emperors	240
The "prosperous age", when China's empire expanded to its greatest extent.
Japan's Great Peace	242
The Edo period, when Japan isolated itself from the rest of the world, and developed a unique cultural identity.
The Great Mughals	244
The empire that at its peak ruled over 100 million subjects across the Indian subcontinent.

