

THOR

GOD OF THUNDER

This fierce-eyed, red-bearded warrior god's name means "thunder". Thor fights hard and travels far to battle giants and trolls. This powerful god is also associated with fertility, crops and farming. Thursday is named after him.

PARENTS: Odin and Jord

CHILDREN: Módi, Magni, Thrud, and Ull (stepson)

SACRED SYMBOLS

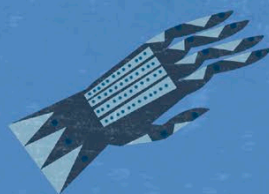

MJÖLNIR

When thrown, Thor's hammer – Mjölner – always hits the target and returns to Thor's hand.

MEGINGJÖRD

When Thor straps this "belt of power" around his waist, it doubles his strength.

JÁRNGREIPR

These are Thor's iron gloves, which he must wear if he wants to throw Mjölner.

THUNDER AND LIGHTNING

Being a god of the sky, Thor controls thunderstorms and life-giving rain.

THOR'S CHARIOT

Thor's chariot is pulled by two goats, Tanngrisnir ("teeth-barer") and Tanngrjostr ("teeth-grinder"). They run swiftly and are armed with splendid horns. If hungry, Thor can cook and eat the goats, then bring them back to life with Mjölner.
