

Frigg is the goddess of marriage, motherhood and the sky. She has knowledge of every person's destiny, but never reveals what she knows. Together with Odin, her husband, she's permitted to sit on the high seat Hlidskjalf and look out over the universe.

PARENTS: Father: Fjörgynn; Mother: unknown

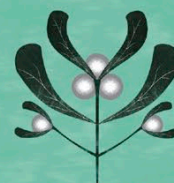

CHILDREN: Baldr, Hermod, Hodr

SACRED SYMBOLS

SPINDLE

With this symbol of domestic life, Frigg spins yarn from the clouds to make clothes for the gods and goddesses.

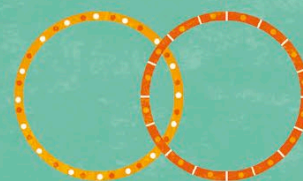

MISTLETOE

When Frigg made everything promise not to hurt her son Baldr, she forgot to include the mistletoe.

KEYS

Keys are a symbol of Frigg as a mother and protector of the home.

RINGS

Two interlocking rings symbolize Frigg as the goddess of marriage and love.

FRIGG'S MAIDENS

Frigg has three maidens – Fulla, Gna and Hlin – who attend to her needs in different ways. Fulla is Frigg's favourite, and they often confide together. Gna is Frigg's messenger and Hlin is the protector of people and objects.

