

HYMIR

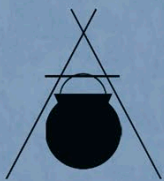

THE ILL-FATED GIANT

Hymir is a giant – or jötunn – who lives in a hall near the sea in Jotunheim. He tried to be a good host when Thor paid a visit, but this ended badly for him when they went out fishing and met the World Serpent Jörmungandr.

MOTHER: A monster with 900 heads

CHILDREN: Tyr

SACRED SYMBOLS

CAULDRON

The giant owns a huge cauldron. The Aesir gods wanted to use it to brew beer.

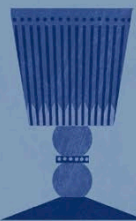

OXEN

Hymir raises oxen, which he slaughters and cooks for guests.

FISHING BOAT

One of Hymir's favourite activities is fishing. He often fishes for food in the sea near his home.

CRYSTAL GOBLET

Hymir owned an unbreakable goblet, which finally shattered when Thor threw it at the giant's head.

MANY-HEADED MOTHER

Some say that Hymir's mother was a monster with 900 heads. She lived with the giant and guarded his home. It's also said that she and Tyr, Hymir's son, did not get along too well.
