

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Centranthus ruber

RED VALERIAN A perennial that forms a clump of fleshy leaves. From late spring to fall, it bears heads of small, star-shaped, deep reddish pink or white flowers. Thrives in poor soil and self-seeds readily; stems may need staking. $\uparrow$ 3ft (1m) $\leftrightarrow$ 24in (60cm) or more

☞ Z5–8

ANNUAL/BIENNIAL MEDIUM

Cerinthe major

HONEYWORT An upright annual with erect stems that bear oval gray-green leaves topped with tubular purple and yellow summer flowers. Stems may need some support; the plant may self-seed in gravel. 'Purpurascens' (above) is a popular variety. $\uparrow$ 24in (60cm) $\leftrightarrow$ 12in (30cm)

☞

BULB MEDIUM

Chionodoxa forbesii

GLORY OF THE SNOW This perennial bulb produces linear midgreen foliage. In early spring, star-shaped blue flowers with white centers appear on slender stems. Plant the bulbs in groups in fall. $\uparrow$ 6in (15cm)

☞ Z3–8

SHRUB SMALL

Cistus x lenis
'Graysword Pink'

ROCK ROSE An evergreen shrub with oval gray-green leaves and saucer-shaped pale pink flowers, each lasting a day and appearing in succession throughout summer. Best in West Coast gardens. $\uparrow$ 24in (60cm) $\leftrightarrow$ 3ft (1m)

☞ Z8–10

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Crocasmia x crocosmiiflora

MONTBRETIA An upright perennial with arching, sword-shaped green leaves and small trumpet-shaped flowers from summer to fall. 'Star of the East' (above) has pure orange flowers. Considered invasive in some coastal areas of the US. $\uparrow$ 28in (70cm) $\leftrightarrow$ 3in (8cm)

☞ Z6–9

TREE SMALL

Cordyline australis

CABBAGE PALM This evergreen tree forms a fountain of sword-shaped green leaves. Protect young specimens from frost. Other colorful variegated forms are available. Grow in a large pot to accommodate taproot and overwinter in a sunny spot indoors. $\uparrow$ 10ft (3m) $\leftrightarrow$ 3ft (1m)

☞ Z10–11

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Coreopsis grandiflora

TICKSEED This bushy, short-lived self-seeding perennial has lance-shaped green leaves and golden-yellow single or double blooms throughout summer. Sow seeds in early spring, or set out young plants in spring in bold groups. $\uparrow$ 30in (75cm) $\leftrightarrow$ 24in (60cm)

☞ Z4–9 (N)

PERENNIAL SMALL

Coreopsis* 'Mango Punch'

TICKSEED A bushy perennial, grown as an annual, with feathery green foliage and masses of saucer-shaped orange-yellow flowers that bloom throughout summer. Use it to edge a path or at the front of a bed. $\uparrow$ 18in (45cm) $\leftrightarrow$ 12in (30cm)

☞ Z9–10

BULB SMALL

Crocus chrysanthus

CROCUS This dwarf perennial bulb produces grassy green foliage and fragrant, bowl-shaped yellow early spring flowers with purple stripes on the outer petals. Plant the bulbs in fall in bold groups. $\uparrow$ 3in (7cm)

☞ Z3–8

PERENNIAL LARGE

Cynara cardunculus

CARDOON A tall upright perennial, which can be grown as an annual, with spiny silver-gray foliage and, from summer to fall, large, thistlelike purple blooms. Plant at the back of a gravel bed; provide support in exposed sites. Invasive in West Coast regions. $\uparrow$ 6ft (2m) $\leftrightarrow$ 3ft (1m)

☞ Z7–9