

Plants for exposed sites

PERENNIAL SMALL

Geranium himalayense
'Plenum'

CRANESBILL A mat-forming perennial, with rounded, lobed green leaves and bowl-shaped, violet-blue double flowers in summer with a white eye and dark veining. Very hardy, use it as ground cover.
 †10in (25cm) ↔ 24in (60cm)

☾ Z4-7

SHRUB LARGE

Hippophae rhamnoides

SEA BUCKTHORN This is a deciduous, bushy, arching shrub for windy coastal sites with narrow silvery leaves. In mid-spring, it bears tiny yellow flowers, which are followed in fall by bright orange berries on female plants. Prefers poor soil.
 †↔ 20ft (6m)

☾ Z4-7

SHRUB LARGE

Juniperus squamata

SINGLESEED JUNIPER This evergreen conifer for cold sites varies in habit from prostrate to bushy or upright. It has sharp, scalelike, dark gray-green to blue-green leaves with black fruits. 'Blue Carpet' (above) has blue-gray foliage.
 †12ft (30cm) ↔ 10ft (3m)

☾ Z4-8

TREE SMALL

Juniperus communis

COMMON JUNIPER This cold-tolerant, evergreen conifer's habit varies from prostrate to upright and bushy. It has needlelike gray-green leaves and blue-tinged black berries. 'Hibernica' is a columnar form.
 †25ft (8m) ↔ 12ft (4m)

☾ Z2-6 (N)

PERENNIAL LARGE

Lavatera maritima

TREE MALLOW This is a shrublike semievergreen perennial with rounded, lobed, gray-green felted leaves. From late summer, it produces saucer-shaped, pale pinky lilac blooms, with darker veins. Grow it in windy seaside gravel gardens or beds.
 †5ft (1.5m) ↔ 3ft (1m)

☾ Z6-8

SHRUB LARGE

Griselinia littoralis

NEW ZEALAND BROADLEAF An evergreen shrub with oval, waxy-textured apple-green leaves. Inconspicuous flowers on female plants, if fertilized, lead to purple fall fruits. Makes a dense hedge or screen in windy, seaside plots. Best in West Coast gardens.
 †25ft (8m) ↔ 15ft (5m)

☾ Z7-9

PERENNIAL LARGE

Liatris spicata

GAYFEATHER This upright, cold- and salt-tolerant perennial produces clumps of linear leaves and, from late summer to early fall, pokerlike spikes of fluffy, pinky purple or white flowers. 'Kobold' (above) has vivid purple-pink blooms.
 †5ft (1.5m) ↔ 18in (45cm)

☾ Z4-9 (N)

SHRUB SMALL

Juniperus rigida

NEEDLE JUNIPER This prostrate evergreen conifer has needlelike gray-green leaves and black fruits with a blue bloom. Tolerant of salt-laden air and drought, use it in low maintenance gardens. 'Pendula' has primary leader with secondary weeping branches.
 †12in (30cm) ↔ indefinite

☾ Z6-9

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Limonium platyphyllum

SEA LAVENDER This perennial forms a basal rosette of oval, wavy-edged green foliage. In late summer, airy, branched heads bear tiny lavender blue to violet flowers. Salt- and cold-tolerant; grow it in coastal gravel gardens or rock gardens.
 †24in (60cm) ↔ 18in (45cm)

☾ Z3-9