

SHRUB MEDIUM

Corylopsis pauciflora

BUTTERCUP WINTER HAZEL This bushy spreading shrub has oval, serrated bright green leaves, bronze- or red-tinged when young. In spring, short clusters of bell-shaped, fragrant pale yellow blooms hang from bare stems. Plant it in dappled shade.

↑ 5ft (1.5m) ↔ 8ft (2.5m)

☀ Z6–8

PERENNIAL LARGE

Dicksonia antarctica

AUSTRALIAN TREE FERN A tree-like evergreen, fern with a stout, brown fibrous "trunk" and a palmlike crown of arching, much divided fronds. Grow it in a sheltered spot in large containers, and overwinter the plant indoors.

↑ 20ft (6m) or more ↔ 12ft (4m)

☀ Z9–11

PERENNIAL SMALL

Dodecatheon dentatum

WHITE SHOOTING STAR This clump-forming perennial makes rosettes of oval midgreen leaves and, in late spring, slim stems of nodding white flowers with swept-back petals. Grow it between tree canopies in a woodland in rich soil.

↑↔ 8in (20cm)

☀ Z4–8 (N)

PERENNIAL LARGE

Digitalis ferruginea

RUSTY FOXGLOVE This perennial has a basal rosette of oval dark green leaves. In midsummer, long, slender, upright spikes of funnel-shaped, orange-brown and white blooms appear. Plant in groups in partial shade beneath trees.

↑ 4ft (1.2m) ↔ 12in (30cm)

☀ Z4–9

BULB SMALL

Cyclamen coum

HARDY CYCLAMEN This perennial bulb has rounded leaves, often marked with silver marbling, and pink flowers that bloom from late winter to early spring. Plant the bulbs in bold groups beneath trees in fall. It becomes dormant in summer heat.

↑ 4in (10cm)

☀ Z5–9

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Dryopteris affinis

GOLDEN MALE FERN A virtually evergreen perennial, it makes a "shuttlecock" of lance-shaped divided fronds, which are pale green as they unfurl in spring, contrasting with the scaly golden-brown midribs. Grow beneath tree canopies; tolerates drought.

↑↔ 3ft (1m)

☀ Z5–8

BULB SMALL

Cyclamen hederifolium

IVY-LEAVED CYCLAMEN This perennial bulb has variable, ivy-shaped dark green leaves, usually overlaid with silvery green marbling. It bears pink or white flowers in fall, before or with the foliage. Tolerates dry shade beneath trees. Goes dormant in summer.

↑ 4in (10cm)

☀ Z5–8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Digitalis grandiflora

LARGE YELLOW FOXGLOVE This clump-forming evergreen perennial has a basal rosette of oval dark green leaves and spires of tubular, downward-pointing creamy yellow blooms in summer. Plant it beneath trees in part shade; it can be short-lived.

↑ 3ft (1m) ↔ 18in (45cm)

☀ Z3–8

PERENNIAL SMALL

Dryopteris erythrosora

JAPANESE SHIELD FERN A clump-forming semievergreen fern with broadly triangular, arching divided fronds, copper-red when young and aging to pinkish green or bronze tinged, and then bright green. Tolerates dry shade, but water well in first year.

↑ 16in (40cm) ↔ 12in (30cm)

☀ Z5–9