

COLORFUL FOLIAGE EFFECTS

Create a medley of colorful foliage with this collection of trees, shrubs, and perennials. Position the Japanese maple in a prominent spot where it will provide the main focal point in the border. Its canopy of finely cut red foliage will fire up further in fall. The Japanese fatsia adds a large-leaved, green contrast, while low-growing coral bell and knotweed lend foliage color at ground level. These plants enjoy moist but free-draining soil. Ensure the knotweed is mulched and kept well watered in summer.

FRAGRANT BORDER

Choose scented plants, such as lavender, to edge a seating area or path where they will emit their scent when brushed against. There is a wealth of fragrant shrub roses to choose from, so select those that suit your color scheme and also consider climbing forms to create a scented wall behind the border. Or, you could weave in regal lily at the back of the scheme, and use garden pinks to edge the front. Provide plants with a sunny site and free-draining soil.

- 2 Salvia nemorosa
- 3 Fragrant shrub rose, e.g. Rosa 'Claire Austin'
