

Plants for cottage gardens

Fads and fashions come and go, yet the cottage garden endures as one of the most popular styles, loved for its nostalgic themes and romantic planting.

A feast for the eyes and stomach, traditional cottage gardens included herbs and vegetables (see pages 98, 106, 186). To create a cottage design, include wooden trellises and arbors laced with roses, vines, and honeysuckle, and underplanted with cushions of lavender. Pack your beds with as many bulbs and perennials as you can squeeze in, planting in groups of three or more, and select a range that will flower consistently from spring until fall. Use pots of annuals to fill any gaps as they appear. You may also want to showcase a few roses, compact shrubs, and topiary balls or pyramids to add some structure to the mix.

PERENNIAL SMALL

Alchemilla mollis

LADY'S MANTLE This clump-forming perennial is ideal for the front of a border or shady corners. It has rounded pale green leaves and sprays of tiny greenish yellow flowers that last several weeks in summer. Trim back untidy leaves and spent blooms.

↔ 20in (50cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z4–7

PERENNIAL LARGE

Anemone x hybrida

JAPANESE ANEMONE A slow spreading perennial with divided dark green leaves. From late summer to fall, it bears, pink or white saucer-shaped flowers on upright stems. 'Honore Jobert' (above) has golden-eyed white flowers.

↑ 4ft (1.2m) ↔ 24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ ⚠️ Z4–8

PERENNIAL SMALL

Anthemis punctata subsp. cupaniana

SICILIAN CHAMOMILE This drought-tolerant evergreen perennial makes a dome of silver foliage. In summer, it is covered with yellow-eyed white daisies. Use at the front of a sunny bed or plant in gravel.

↑ 12in (30cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z6–9

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Aquilegia vulgaris

COLUMBINE This clump-forming perennial has fernlike foliage. Nodding, bell-shaped blooms with spurred petals appear on upright stems from late spring to early summer. Flowers can be violet, blue, pink, or white.

↑ 3ft (1m) ↔ 18in (45cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z3–8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Aquilegia vulgaris var. stellata

COLUMBINE This upright perennial has round divided leaves and, from late spring to early summer, pompomlike flowers on tall stems. 'Nora Barlow' (above) has greenish pink blooms, which become pink tipped with white as they age.

↑ 30in (75cm) ↔ 20in (50cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z3–8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Argyranthemum frutescens

MARGUERITE A woody-based, tender evergreen perennial, often grown as an annual, with divided green or gray-green leaves and white, yellow, or pink daisy-like blooms, depending on the variety, from late spring to fall. Plant in pots or raised beds.

↑ 28in (70cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z10–11

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Achillea ptarmica The Pearl Group

SNEEZEWORT An upright, spreading perennial with linear dark green leaves. In summer, it is covered with small white pompomlike flowers that resemble pearls. Use it to edge a path.

↑ 24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z3–8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Aster ericoides

Renamed Symphyotrichum ericoides This clump-forming heath aster has small, lance-shaped midgreen leaves and, from late summer to late fall, yellow-centered white daisy-like flower heads, sometimes shaded pink or blue.

↑ 3ft (1m) ↔ 12in (30cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z4–8 Ⓝ