

Trees for blossom

Even small gardens can accommodate a deciduous tree and the breathtaking display of blossoms you will enjoy each spring is ample reward.

Trees also provide a structural counterpoint to low-growing bulbs, creating a canopy of flowers overhead followed by a carpet of petals as they fall. Before making a choice, consider the proportion as well as the decorative value of the tree. For tight spaces, choose upright or compact trees, such as a small flowering cherry, serviceberry, or flowering dogwood. Plant your tree at the back of a border in a sunny spot, or in the center of a lawn as a prominent feature, and underplant with spring bulbs, such as daffodils, grape hyacinths, and anemones, leaving a space of at least 24in (60cm) around the trunk.

TREE SMALL

Cercis chinensis

CHINESE REDBUD The branches of this large shrub or small tree are covered with rosy pink pealike flowers in late spring, before the foliage emerges. Beanlike seedpods follow the blooms. Its large decorative green foliage is heart-shaped.

↑20ft (6m) ↔15ft (5m)

☀ ☀ ☀ Z6-9

TREE MEDIUM

Cercis siliquastrum

JUDAS TREE This bushy deciduous tree, perfect for small gardens, is a picture in spring when its bare stems are clothed with pink blooms. Attractive heart-shaped green leaves appear in summer, and are followed by purplish seedpods.

↑30ft (10m)

☀ ☀ ☀ Z6-9

TREE LARGE

Aesculus x carnea

RED HORSECHESTNUT This rounded deciduous tree produces large upright clusters of red flowers in late spring. It has dark green divided leaves and fall nuts. Varieties include 'Briotii' (above) with pink flowers.

↑70ft (20m) ↔50ft (15m)

☀ ☀ ☀ Z5-8

TREE SMALL

Amelanchier canadensis

SHADBLOW SERVICEBERRY This upright deciduous tree or shrub has oval green leaves that develop fiery orange-red tones in fall. From mid- to late spring, it bears starry white flowers followed by edible berries that ripen to red in summer.

↑20ft (6m) ↔10ft (3m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ pH Z3-7 (N)

TREE SMALL

Amelanchier laevis

ALLEGHENY SERVICEBERRY This small deciduous tree or large shrub produces sprays of white flowers in spring. Red fruits follow the blooms. Its young bronze leaves turn dark green in summer, then red and orange in fall.

↑25ft (8m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ pH Z4-8 (N)

TREE MEDIUM

Cercis canadensis

EASTERN REDBUD A spreading deciduous tree or shrub with pale pink pealike mid-spring flowers on bare stems. In fall, its heart-shaped leaves turn vivid yellow, giving late-season color. C. canadensis var. alba (above) has white flowers.

↑30ft (10m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z4-9 (N)

TREE SMALL

Cornus florida

FLOWERING DOGWOOD This conical deciduous tree or shrub produces a bold display in late spring when covered with tiny green flowers surrounded by showy white or pink bracts. The slightly twisted leaves turn red and purple in fall.

↑20ft (6m) ↔25ft (8m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ pH Z5-9 (N)