

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Geranium pratense

MEADOW CRANESBILL Useful for sun or part-shade, this clump-forming perennial has divided leaves and violet-blue saucer-shaped summer flowers. Ideal to use as a front-of-bed plant. Varieties include the pinky gray 'Mrs Kendall Clark' (above).

↑↔24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z4–8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Geranium sylvaticum

WOOD CRANESBILL Ideal for the front of a shady bed alongside pastel or hot-hued partners, this perennial produces clumps of lobed midgreen leaves and blue-purple flowers from late spring to early summer. 'Album' (above) has white blooms.

↑30in (75cm) ↔24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z4–8

SHRUB SMALL

Hebe 'Great Orme'

HEBE This evergreen shrub bears slender pink flower spikes from midsummer to mid-fall that fade with age. Use at the back of a bed where its deep purple shoots and glossy dark green foliage will offer a foil for other plants. Best in West Coast gardens.

↑↔4ft (1.2m)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z9–11

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Hemerocallis 'Chicago Sunrise'

DAYLILY A clump-forming perennial with slender arching leaves and large, golden-yellow trumpet-shaped summer flowers. Each flower lasts a day, but are borne over several weeks. Water well in summer.

↑28in (70cm) ↔34in (85cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z3–10

SHRUB LARGE

Hibiscus syriacus

ROSE OF SHARON Plant this deciduous shrub for color in late summer and early fall, when large, blue, violet, or white saucer-shaped single or double flowers appear. Grow at the back of a bed. 'Blue Bird' (above) has blue flowers. Considered invasive in some areas.

↑10ft (3m) ↔6ft (2m)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z5–9

SHRUB LARGE

Hydrangea aspera Villosa Group

ROUGH-LEAVED HYDRANGEA Ideal for providing shelter, or for the back of a bed, this deciduous shrub has velvety leaves and flattened heads of tiny mauve late summer florets surrounded by larger white blooms.

↑↔10ft (3m)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z7–9

SHRUB SMALL

Hydrangea macrophylla 'Lilacina'

LACECAP HYDRANGEA This deciduous, compact shrub has broad oval leaves and flattened clusters of tiny mauve-pink or blue flowers surrounded by pink blooms. Use it in the middle of a mixed bed.

↑↔4ft (1.2m)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z6–9

SHRUB MEDIUM

Hydrangea quercifolia

OAKLEAF HYDRANGEA This mound-forming, deciduous shrub adds bulk to a shady bed. From midsummer to fall, its cone-shaped, cream flower heads, which age to pink-tinged white, shine out from the gloom. Plants require neutral to acidic soil.

↑6ft (2m) ↔8ft (2.5m)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z5–9 N

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Iris domestica

BLACKBERRY LILY This iris is grown for its orange and yellow star-shaped flowers and blackberrylike seeds from mid- to late summer. It is a rhizome- and clump-forming perennial, with blue-green swordlike foliage; and is ideal for summer beds.

↑3ft (1m) ↔24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z5–10

SHRUB SMALL

Kalmia angustifolia

SHEEP LAUREL This mound-forming, evergreen shrub provides year-round interest in a shady border, but peaks in early summer when it becomes covered with small, pink bowl-shaped flowers. Use in a naturalized planting.

↑24in (60cm) ↔5ft (1.5m)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ ☀️ Z1–6 N