

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Aster x frikartii

FRIKART'S ASTER Use this perennial to cool hot colors or blend with pastels. From late summer to early fall, it bears orange-centered, violet-blue daisy-like flowers on top of slim stems. Varieties include the lavender-blue 'Wonder of Staff' (above).
 ↑28in (70cm) ↔16in (40cm)

 Z5-8

PERENNIAL SMALL

Aster novae-angliae

Renamed Symphotrichum novae-angliae This New England aster has green leaves and purple, pink, red, or white daisy-like late summer to fall blooms. It is more resistant to mildew disease than A. novi-belgii. 'Purple Dome' (above) has purple flowers.
 ↑up to 5ft (1.5m) ↔24in (60cm)

 Z4-8 (N)

SHRUB SMALL

Caryopteris x clandonensis

BLUEBEARD This bushy deciduous shrub forms an upright compact mass of lance-shaped gray-green leaves and dense clusters of blue to purplish blue tubular flowers from late summer to fall. 'Worcester Gold' (above) has contrasting golden leaves.
 ↑3ft (1m) ↔5ft (1.5m)

 Z6-9

SHRUB SMALL

Cerastostigma willmottianum

CHINESE PLUMBAGO This deciduous shrub is prized for its small green leaves that turn bright red in fall. Slender stems produce small sky-blue flowers from late summer to fall. The plant dies back in winter and re-shoots in spring.
 ↑3ft (1m) ↔5ft (1.5m)

 Z6-8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Chelone obliqua

TURTLEHEAD On reliably moist soil, this upright perennial will produce spikes of dark pink or purple two-lipped flowers from late summer to early fall above toothed green leaves. Try combining it with the foamy white flowers of boneset.
 ↑3ft (1m) ↔20in (50cm)

 Z3-9 (N)

PERENNIAL SMALL

Chrysanthemum hybrids

GARDEN MUM This perennial offers color to the fall garden with its sprays of rounded, red, pink, white, or orange single or double blooms, which appear above lobed foliage. It is good for cutting; deadhead regularly to prolong the display.
 ↑18in (45cm) ↔16in (40cm)

 Z5-9

PERENNIAL LARGE

Gaura lindheimeri

WAND FLOWER From summer to fall, this upright perennial bears white or pink starry flowers on long wiry stems that move freely in the wind. Plant it mid-bed as a see-through plant. 'Karalee White' (above) is a popular modern variety.
 ↑5ft (1.5m) ↔3ft (1m)

 Z5-9 (N)

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Helenium 'Moerheim Beauty'

SNEEZEWEED This free-flowering perennial bears copper-red daisy-like flowers from midsummer to late summer. As the blooms fade, the centers remain, providing interest into fall. Plant it mid-bed.
 ↑3ft (1m) ↔24in (60cm)

 Z4-8

PERENNIAL LARGE

Eupatorium perfoliatum

BONESET Forming a dense clump of upright stems and coarse dark green leaves, this perennial bears branching heads of small, white pincushion-shaped flowers from midsummer to early fall. It needs moist soil and is ideal for bog gardens.
 ↑6ft (2m) ↔4ft (1.2m)

 Z3-8 (N)

PERENNIAL LARGE

Eutrochium purpureum

JOE PYE WEED An upright perennial, it forms a dense clump of tough stems and large, dark green coarse leaves. From late summer to early fall, fluffy purple-pink blooms appear. Best for large, naturalistic gardens with moist soil.
 ↑7ft (2.2m) ↔3ft (1m)

 Z4-9 (N)