

Plants for ornamental fruits

While flower choices are more limited in fall, there are fruits aplenty, adding color and texture to designs, as well as food for wildlife.

Decorate your garden with ornamental and edible fruits, such as apples and pears, for both taste and color. The classic red fruits of crabapple, cotoneaster, and roses introduce bright beads of color and combine well with berries in other shades. Try the violet berries of a beautyberry, the blue-black fruits of blackhaw viburnum, and the purple and pink, flowerlike berries of glory bower. Although many fruits are borne on large trees and shrubs, skimmia is ideal for a small garden, and climbers, such as climbing blueberry, will scale fences and trellises while taking up very little ground space.

CLIMBER MEDIUM

Billardiera longiflora

CLIMBING BLUEBERRY This twining evergreen climber has narrow green leaves and small, bell-shaped greenish yellow flowers. In fall, unusual purple-blue edible fruits with a metallic sheen develop. Plant on warm sheltered walls.

↑6ft (2m)
☀️ Z8-9

SHRUB LARGE

Aronia x prunifolia

PURPLE CHOKEBERRY An upright shrub with dark green oval leaves, this natural hybrid has white spring flowers, which are followed by purple-black berries that make a stunning contrast to the glowing red fall foliage.

↑10ft (3m) ↔8ft (2.5m)
☀️ Z4-8 (N)

SHRUB LARGE

Callicarpa bodinieri var. giraldii

BEAUTYBERRY A bushy deciduous shrub, with oval purple-tinted leaves and tiny lilac flowers. Dense clusters of small, spherical violet berries, set at intervals along the stems, follow the blooms in fall.

↑10ft (3m) ↔8ft (2.5m)
☀️ Z5-8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Actaea pachypoda

WHITE BANEERRY This clump-forming perennial has divided bright green leaves. In midsummer, it produces upright spikes of fluffy white flowers followed by oval, black-tipped white berries on stiff bright red stalks in fall.

↑3ft (1m) ↔20in (50cm)
☀️ Z3-8 (N)

SHRUB LARGE

Arbutus unedo

STRAWBERRY TREE This large evergreen shrub has dark green leathery leaves and white urn-shaped flowers, which appear at the same time as the strawberry-like fruits, which turn red in fall. Use it for seasonal interest at the back of a bed.

↑↔25ft (8m)
☀️ Z7-9

SHRUB SMALL

Callicarpa dichotoma

PURPLE BEAUTYBERRY This small rounded shrub has arching stems bearing clusters of lilac summer flowers in the leaf axils. By early fall, these develop into clusters of violet berries, which persist as the oval green leaves turn yellow.

↑↔4ft (1.2m)
☀️ Z5-8