

SHRUB SMALL

Gaultheria mucronata

CHILEAN PERNETTIA This evergreen shrub, with dark prickly leaves and tiny white spring blooms, is chiefly grown for its spherical berries in shades of white, pink, or crimson. Females fruit if a male is planted close by. Best in West Coast gardens.

↑↔ 4ft (1.2m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z7–9

SHRUB LARGE

Ilex 'Sparkleberry'

WINTERBERRY This bushy deciduous shrub has oval pointed leaves that develop bold fall colors before dropping. If pollinated by a male plant, the bare stems become laden with small red berries that last well into winter, or until they are eaten by birds.

↑ 15ft (5m) ↔ 12ft (4m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z5–9

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Iris foetidissima

STINKING IRIS This shade- and drought-tolerant evergreen perennial has sword-shaped leaves and yellow-tinged purple blooms from early- to midsummer. In fall, its long seedpods split to reveal orange-red berries. Leaves may fade in colder areas.

↑ 3ft (1m) ↔ indefinite

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z6–9

TREE MEDIUM

Malus floribunda

JAPANESE FLOWERING CRABAPPLE Plant this deciduous tree in a border or lawn. Its showy pale pink spring flowers emerge from crimson buds, after the oval leaves appear. Edible red and yellow fruits follow in fall. Considered invasive.

↑↔ 30ft (10m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z4–8

SHRUB LARGE

Pyracantha 'Mohave'

FIRETHORN This scab-resistant evergreen shrub has prickly stems and white summer-flower clusters followed by orange-red berries. Other varieties are available, with fruits that ripen in shades of orange, red, and yellow; all are ideal for wall-training.

↑↔ 12ft (4m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z6–9

TREE MEDIUM

Malus 'Red Sentinel'

CRABAPPLE This deciduous tree is smothered in white single flowers in spring. In fall, bunches of glossy deep red cherrylike fruits form. The fruits last beyond leaf fall, decorating the bare winter branches.

↑ 40ft (12m) ↔ 30ft (10m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z5–8

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Physalis alkekengi

CHINESE LANTERN This spreading perennial has upright stems and small cream flowers in midsummer followed by highly ornamental, orange "Chinese lanterns", concealing berrylike fruits. Cut early for indoor decoration.

↑ 30in (75cm) ↔ 3ft (1m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z3–9

SHRUB SMALL

Rosa 'Fru Dagmar Hastrup'

HYBRID RUGOSA ROSE This shrub rose has healthy crinkled foliage and bears fragrant, soft pink single blooms in flushes from summer to early fall, and large, deep red tomato-like hips alongside later flowers. The hips are attractive to birds.

↑ 3ft (1m) ↔ 4ft (1.2m)

☀ ☀ ☀ ☀ Z3–9