

PERENNIAL LARGE

Phormium tenax

NEW ZEALAND FLAX A clump-forming evergreen perennial with long, upright, then arching, sword-shaped gray-green leaves that create a dramatic effect at the back of a bed. Dark red or yellow flowers may form on tall stems during hot summers.

↑ 10ft (3m) ↔ 6ft (2m)

TREE LARGE

Picea breweriana

BREWER'S SPRUCE Make a year-round statement in a large garden with this cone-shaped evergreen conifer. Its drooping stems, covered with dark gray-green needles, create curtains of color. Grow in neutral to acidic soil in a sheltered site.

↑ 50ft (15m) ↔ 12ft (4m)

SHRUB SMALL

Picea pungens 'Montgomery'

COLORADO SPRUCE This compact, mound-forming, slow-growing evergreen conifer, with needlelike gray-blue leaves, lends a splash of year-round color to a gravel bed or rock garden. Plant with contrasting green foliage plants. Needs neutral to acidic soil.

SHRUB LARGE

Pieris japonica

LILY OF THE VALLEY BUSH This evergreen shrub has dark green leathery leaves, bright red when young, and clusters of urn-shaped white, pink, or red spring flowers. Grow it in a sunny site. 'Fleming' (above) has dark red buds that open to a deep pink.

↑ 12ft (4m) ↔ 10ft (3m)

SHRUB LARGE

Pinus mugo

MUGO PINE This compact conifer forms a mound of needlelike evergreen foliage and makes a good foil for spring bulbs, perennials, and small shrubs. Select a dwarf form like 'Mops' (above) for pots and containers.

↑ 12ft (4m) ↔ 15ft (5m)

SHRUB LARGE

Pittosporum tenuifolium

KOHUHU The wavy-edged gray-green leaves of this evergreen shrub create a year-round textured effect in sheltered sites. Use as a backdrop to a sunny border. Select variegated forms, such as 'Marjorie Channon', for additional interest.

↑ 30ft (10m) ↔ 15ft (5m)

SHRUB MEDIUM

SHRUB LARGE

Pittosporum tobira

JAPANESE PITTOSPORUM Plant this evergreen shrub with decorative capsules in a sheltered site where it will produce a neat dome of long, oval, dark green leaves. Clusters of fragrant, starry, white flowers, aging to creamy yellow, add to the effect.

↑ 30ft (10m) ↔ 10ft (3m)

SHRUB LARGE

Pyracantha 'Mohave'

FIRETHORN Ideal for training against a wall or fence, the dark green leaves of this scab-resistant evergreen shrub provide a foil for plants growing in front. Its orange-red late summer berries persist into winter and are attractive to birds.

↑↔ 12ft (4m)

Rosmarinus officinalis

ROSEMARY Given a sheltered site, this culinary, evergreen shrubby herb retains its aromatic, needlelike, dark green foliage year-round. Do not harvest the leaves in winter. Small blue flowers appear in spring. Cut back old growth in early summer.
