PERENNIAL SMALL

Carex comans

NEW ZEALAND HAIR SEDGE This perennial forms clumps of arching, hairlike green or bronze foliage. Inconspicuous flower heads appear on long stems in summer. Cascade it over the sides of pots or try it in a raised bed as a foil for orange and red flowers.

↑ 14in (35cm) ↔ 30in (75cm)

☕️ ☀️ ☀️ Z7–9

PERENNIAL SMALL

Carex elata

BOWLES' GOLDEN SEDGE Ideal for lively bog garden schemes, this evergreen perennial forms tufts of long, arching golden-yellow leaves. Thin grasslike blackish brown flower spikes appear in summer. Try it with scarlet lobelias and golden marsh marigolds.

↑ 28in (70cm) ↔ 18in (45cm)

☕️ ☀️ ☀️ Z5–9

SHRUB LARGE

Camellia japonica

JAPANESE CAMELLIA The glossy evergreen leaves of this shrub lend a neutral backdrop to hot-hued borders year-round, punctuated by early spring blooms. Choose a richly hued form, such as the salmon-red 'Blood of China' (above), for hot schemes.
