

Plants for fragrant blooms

Guaranteed to lure visitors into the garden, scented plants are a welcome asset, and add a new dimension to any garden design.

Site fragrant flowers close to seating areas, doorways, and paths, and ensure that plants which require nudging to release their perfume, such as lavender, are brushed against to achieve this effect. Plants with a heady perfume like regal lily may be too overpowering for beds close to dining areas, so test them out before including any. To keep your spirits raised year-round, include roses that bloom in fall, Oregon grapeholly and witch hazel for winter gardens, and a selection of the vast legion of fragrant plants that flower in spring and summer.

SHRUB SMALL

Arctostaphylos uva-ursi

BEARBERRY This creeping evergreen shrub has oval, glossy green leaves with a silver reverse and small, urn-shaped, pink or white fragrant flowers that bloom from spring to early summer. The flowers are followed by red berries.

↑4in (10cm) ↔20in (50cm)

☀️ ☀️ ☀️ 🌱 Z2-6 (N)

SHRUB LARGE

Chimonanthus praecox

WINTERSWEET This large deciduous shrub produces lance-shaped midgreen leaves. In winter, sulfur-yellow flowers with heady fragrance appear on bare stems followed by cylindrical or urn-shaped seed capsules.

↑12ft (4m) ↔10ft (3m)

☀️ ☀️ Z7-9

SHRUB LARGE

Abelia x grandiflora

GLOSSY ABELIA This arching semievergreen shrub, with small dark green leaves, has pale pink to white bell-shaped blooms with a light fragrance that appear for weeks in midsummer. It is ideal for a sheltered spot next to a sunny patio.

↑10ft (3m) ↔12ft (4m)

☀️ ☀️ Z6-9

PERENNIAL MEDIUM

Agastache 'Tangerine Dreams'

GIANT HYSSOP This tender perennial has gray-green, minty-anise-scented leaves and, from summer to fall, long-lasting spikes of small, pale orange-pink, nectar-rich tubular blooms. Overwinter as cuttings.

↑↔24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z7-10

SHRUB LARGE

Brugmansia x candida

ANGELS' TRUMPETS This large shrub, usually overwintered in a conservatory, will enjoy summer on a warm patio. The huge hanging trumpets of night-scented blooms are white, yellow, or pink-apricot in 'Grand Marnier' (above). It is highly toxic.

↑15ft (5m) ↔8ft (2.5m)

☀️ ☀️ ⚠️ Z11

CLIMBER MEDIUM

Clematis recta

CLEMATIS This herbaceous perennial climber scrambles up over other shrubs. Large clusters of small, white fragrant blooms appear from summer to early fall, followed by fluffy seedheads.

'Purpurea' has coppery young foliage.

↑6ft (2m)

☀️ ☀️ Z3-9

SHRUB MEDIUM

Choisya ternata

MEXICAN ORANGE This rounded evergreen shrub has aromatic, glossy green leaves. It has sweetly perfumed late-spring-flower clusters, which repeat in fall. 'Aztec Pearl' is free-flowering. This Mexican native performs best in West Coast gardens.

↑↔8ft (2.5m)

☀️ ☀️ Z8-10 (N)