

GARDENS in SUN

Sun-drenched gardens are perfect for a wealth of flowering plants, as well as those with sparkling silver foliage and richly colored leaves. Brightly lit patios are also an asset, providing ideal conditions for many spring bulbs, summer annuals, and edible plants, including soft fruits, Mediterranean vegetables, and tender green beans. And if you have a pond, indulge in a sumptuous water lily or two, and fringe your feature with marginals that will mirror their shapes and colors in the glassy surface.
