

BULB MEDIUM

Chionodoxa forbesii

GLORY OF THE SNOW Use this diminutive, early-spring-flowering perennial bulb on a sloping sunny site. It has linear midgreen foliage and small star-shaped, blue white-eyed flowers. Plant the bulbs in groups in fall.

↑ 6in (15cm) ↔ 2in (5cm)

☀️ Z3–8

SHRUB MEDIUM

Clethra alnifolia

SUMMERSWEET This deciduous shrub's late summer spires of small white fragrant blooms add appeal to a wooded sloping site. The green leaves turn bright yellow in fall. It performs best on moist acidic soil at the bottom of a slope.

↑↑ 8ft (2.5m)

☀️ pH Z3–9 (N)

SHRUB SMALL

Cotoneaster horizontalis

ROCKSPRAY The branches of this deciduous shrub are arranged in a distinctive "herringbone" pattern and hug the contours of a slope. In summer, it bears small white blooms followed by vivid red berries from fall to early winter, which are eaten by birds.

↑ 3ft (1m) ↔ 5ft (1.5m)

☀️ ⚠️ Z4–7

SHRUB SMALL

Daboecia cantabrica

IRISH HEATH This low-growing drought-tolerant shrub, ideal for a slope or bank, forms a mat of dark green leaves. Purple, white, or mauve urn-shaped flowers appear from early summer to fall. 'Bicolor' (above) has mixed flower colors on a single raceme.

↑ 18in (45cm) ↔ 24in (60cm)

☀️ pH Z6–8

SHRUB SMALL

Erica carnea

WINTER HEATH This ground-hugging evergreen shrub produces a mat of dark green needlelike leaves on a sunny slope or bank. From winter to spring, it is covered with tiny pink, red, or white blooms held on short spikes.

↑ 12in (30cm) ↔ 18in (45cm) or more

☀️ pH Z5–7

SHRUB LARGE

Elaeagnus x ebbingei

OLEASTER This tough vigorous evergreen shrub can be used as a windbreak on a sloping site. It has broadly oval dark green leaves covered with a silvery dusting. Small, white fragrant flowers appear in fall. 'Gilt Edge' is a colorful variegated form.

↑↑ 15ft (5m)

☀️ ☀️ Z7–9

SHRUB SMALL

Gaultheria mucronata

CHILEAN PERNETTYA This evergreen shrub creates a decorative addition to a slope or bank, with its prickly dark green leaves. White to purple-red berries follow the white late spring blooms on females. Best in West Coast gardens.

↑↑ 4ft (1.2m)

☀️ ⚠️ Z7–9

PERENNIAL SMALL

Geranium endressii

ENDRES CRANESBILL This clump-forming semievergreen perennial will clothe a slope with its green lobed foliage from spring to fall. Light pink summer blooms with slightly notched petals add to the effect. Easy to grow, it thrives in sun or part shade.

↑ 18in (45cm) ↔ 24in (60cm)

☀️ ☀️ Z4–8

PERENNIAL SMALL

Epimedium x youngianum 'Niveum'

YOUNG'S BARRENWORT This ground-cover perennial has heart-shaped, bronze-tinted serrated leaves that turn green and make a decorative mat on a slope or bank. Small white flowers appear in late spring.

↑↑ 12in (30cm)

☀️ Z4–8