Rosa Flower Carpet Series

GROUNDCOVER ROSE Plant this spreading rose on a sheltered slope to protect it from wind. Its cupped, white, pink, red, and yellow semidouble blooms appear from summer to fall above disease-resistant glossy green leaves.

†18in (45cm) ↔ 4ft (1.2m)

☀️ Z5–9

SHRUB SMALL

Stephanandra incisa 'Crispa'

CUTLEAF STEPHANANDRA This deciduous shrub will cover a sloping bed with mounds of crinkled foliage that turns yellow and orange in fall. Clusters of tiny greenish white flowers appear in summer. Easy to grow, it tolerates most sites and soils.

†24in (60cm) ↔ 10ft (3m)

☀️ Z4–7

SHRUB MEDIUM

Symphoricarpos albus

COMMON SNOWBERRY Vigorous and tolerant of most sites, this dense deciduous shrub bears small, round dark green leaves. Pink summer flowers are followed by round white fruits that stay on bare stems through winter. Trim to make a waist-high hedge.

†↔ 6ft (2m)

☀️ Z3–7

PERENNIAL SMALL

Trollius pumilus

GLOBEFLOWER This perennial can be seen growing wild on the foothills of the Himalayas. It brightens up late-spring beds with its yellow buttercup-like flowers that form above the glossy green leaves. Happy in sun or partial shade in moist soil.

†12in (cm) ↔ 8in (20cm) or more

☀️ Z4–8

SHRUB LARGE

Tsuga canadensis 'Pendula'

CANADIAN HEMLOCK A slow-growing evergreen conifer with a fountain of pendent stems of needlelike blue-green leaves, white beneath, and small brown cones. Ideal for weeping over a bank or growing on a gentle, sheltered slope.
