

Copperband
butterfly fishYellow wrasseJohn
Dory

Ram cichlid

Goldfish

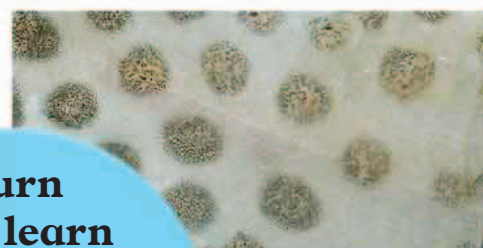

Seahorse

Bony fish

Most fish are bony, which means they have a hard skeleton inside them. Sharks are not bony fish, but have a skeleton made of cartilage – a material that is softer than bone.

Picture detective

Take a look through the fish section and see if you can spot the owners of these colourful skins.

Turn and learn

Seahorse:
p. 151
Sharks:
pp. 152-153