

4 billion trees are cut down every year to make paper

TYPICAL USES

Continuous production is used for undifferentiated commodities required in large and constant amounts.

PRESS SECTION
More water is squeezed out of the wet sheets.

DRYING
The paper is dried off.

COATING AND CALENDERING
The paper is coated, compressed, and smoothed.

FINISHING AND SUPPLY
The finished paper is constantly supplied to printers, packers, and newspapers.